Dear Todd,

What a joy it was to have you share in ministry this past Sunday. I appreciate so much you coming to Cross Road and sharing in song and the Word. I know our people were blessed by your music and as you shared your thoughts about their involvement in Kingdom work.

Todd, we were delighted to have you and pray that the Lord will bless your ministry. I had one gentleman approach me immediately following the service as he was helping to pack up all of our materials, replace the chairs where they needed to be and generally help clean up. He said he had never been able to see how he helped God's church with (what he considered to be) no real talents. He said, "I realize today I can help in this way and I love helping to set up for church!" Here was a man who realized from your comments and sharing that He, like everyone in God's church, is gifted for ministry and can serve in the work. It was a powerful moment for that man and the smile on his face was evident of new found joy in his heart.

I know how passionate you are about helping people understand their giftedness and how God can use them. As we build this new church we will be calling you back to share your seminar on assimilation and involvement. Until then, please know we are praying for you and the ministry.

By Your Side,

Pastor Brad Cooper
