Discovering My Holy Discontent

Philippians 4:10-12/Hebrews 13:5/1 Peter 2:2

Discontent: Dissatisfied _____, A longing for something _____.

1. Holy discontent is defined by the _____ of my heart, mirroring that of Christ.
2. Without holy discontent, the _____ of my life is difficult to define. Jeremiah 29:11-13/John 10:7-18
3. Understanding holy discontent brings immeasurable _____ and purpose through Christ.

APPLICATION:

- Do I have a situation/incident in my life that was a defining moment in my walk with Christ and the result was a profound change in my life forever? _____
- Is there a situation or condition in this world that seems to hit me square in the face when it is talked about? How does it pain the heart of God? _____
- What topic of conversation, in terms of the condition of people or the state of the world, seems to get my blood boiling? _____
- Do I seem to have an innate insight into solving, soothing or ministering in this area in some way that seems to be similar to a solution? _____
- How would this world be different if I were to purpose my life to better this situation/condition? _____
- What would it mean to my life if, at the end of my physical life on earth, I could look back over my shoulder to see that I had made an eternal difference, not only in this situation, but also in the lives of countless people? _____
- My holy discontent could be _____.
